WRITES A LETTER

FR. ANSELM HAS BEEN SICK AND HAD A DOCTOR.

STORY OF HIS JOURNEY

Sorrow and Gladness Mingled at Start as at Finish—Is Again Able to Be Out.

The Rev. Fr. Willibrord, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, received a letter Monday from the Rev. Fr. Anselm, pastor of the church, who is on a trip to his old home in Switzerland, and to an ecclesiastical gathering in Rome. The letter is for all the friends of Rev. Anselm, who writes on request of The Democrat-Forum. The letter was translated from the German by Fr. Willibrord. It will be learned with regret that Fr. Anselm was taken ill at Rome and has been quite sick. We hope to have other letters from him when he is recovered. The letter received Monday reads:

Rome, May 13, 1913.—Editor Democrat-Forum: To reach the home of all my friends without writing to each one in particular, please allow me space in your esteemed paper for the following lines.

Here I am sitting in the shadow of St. Peter's dome, and while I am wrapped up with its beauty, grandeur and glory, I cannot help thinking of home. And when I speak of home I do not mean only that place where my cradle stood and where I spent the happy days of my childhood, but also Maryville, where I spent the greater part of my life, and where I left a host of friends.

Never will I forget that Monday night, April 7th, when I left Maryville under thunder and lightning. It was a stormy night, but greater was the storm within my heart. To leave Maryville and start for Switzerland were two things which roused a mixture of feelings, hope, joy and sadness. But at 10 o'clock the Wabash conductor gave the signal, the black horse dashed away for St. Louis and Maryville disappeared in the darkness of the night.

The journey between Maryville and New York was slow and gloomy; never saw the sun; everywhere rain and floods.

In Chicago I visited a hospital in spite of all the rain, met the dear last friends from Maryville—Dr. Vilas Martin, just coming from the operation table and still under the influence of chloroform, and his beloved wife, worrying at the bedside of her husband. Full of sympathy for them and accompanied by their smile and good wishes, I left them, reaching New York Friday evening.

Saturday morning, April 12th, we boarded the steamer at 10 o'clock, and while the last rope broke loose from the dock the steamer's band played the liveliest melodies. Some passengers feared and trembled, other sang and danced, others wept and cried, taking leave from their friends.

The weather was dark and gloomy, the fog intense—so intense that we could hardly see each other. We were not three miles off from the dock when the danger signals sounded all over the harbor from all directions and every ship stopped its course.

Sunday morning came and we were still on the same spot where we stopped Saturday noon. It was a dreadful night. Fear and sadness was the expression on every face, everybody thinking of the fatal accident of the Titanic just a year ago. I felt about like a certain Luxemburger, who said:

"I wish I was on land again. Out here on the ocean the Lord is the sole master, but on land I could help myself at least a little."

Sunday morning came and at 7 o'clock our steamer took a new start and safely passed the dangerous places of Sandy Hook.

Kronland is an old steamer belonging to the Red Star line, 600 feet long and 60 feet wide, in the hands of careful managers, carries an excellent band, sets a fine table and keeps good order. While it has room for 2,000 passengers, we were only 800, being too early in the spring for tourists. The Red Star line has the name of being slow but sure. Took us ten days to cross the sea, although we had no storm. I was pretty near the only one who had the honor and the pleasure to preach to the fish, and what all the doctors of Maryville could not get out of my system the sea breeze did. Only lost eighteen pounds in weight.

April 21st, on the feast of St. Anselm, we spied the west coast of England, and everybody rejoiced, but still greater, exceedingly great was the joy and happiness April 23d when we landed in Antwerp. This is one of the oldest cities of Belgium, and renowned for its old fashioned beauty. For me it had very little attraction. My desire was to see the grand, celebrated Luxembourg.

Yes, all respect for Luxembourg! Many nice things I saw there, and when I get home I will never get through telling Mr. Nick Sturm and company about its beauty. Only one thing I regretted—the end of our train was not yet in Luxembourg while the front car was out of it already.

At 12 o'clock we reached Basel and drank the fresh mountain air of Switzerland in the fullest draughts. There was no sleep for me in Basel. Started for home, my pulse going faster than ever and my heart jumping higher than ever.

But, alas! The cup of pleasure was soon to be mingled with tears of grief and sorrow. Found my dear old mother dangerously sick and almost blind, while my brother and sister just returned from the cemetery, where they buried the beloved daughter of my brother, only 12 years of age, in the prime and spring-time of her life. No rose without thorns! Such was the day of my arrival—a day of joy and happiness and a day of grief and sorrow. But thanks to the Lord, my mother soon revived, got better from day to day and felt happy when I left her on my journey to Rome.

My trip through the mountains of Switzerland, through the Gotthard, the biggest tunnel of the world, through Italy was simply grand; the most beautiful scenery I ever saw in my life.

Still grander was the dedication of the famous crypta of St. Benedict, in Monte Casino, May 8th, in the presence of nearly one hundred abbots, all the Benedictine abbots of the world. May 12th we returned here to Rome for the election of the archabbot.

Kl. Wangen, May 26.—Pardon me, my friends, if I cut my letter short all at once. Ever since I wrote the above I have been sick, was bound to leave Rome against my will and have been under a doctor's care. Only these last few days I am able to move around again and enjoy myself. My best wishes and hearty greetings to all my friends.

FATHER ANSELM, O. S. B.

A BEAUTIFUL PROGRAM.

Civic Mass Meeting Thursday Night Will Prove a Delightful Evening for Everybody.

Music, beauty and patriotism will form the combination program offered at the civic meeting Thursday evening, which will be held in the First M. E. church.

The Maryville band will donate the most sparkling music for the occasion and Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Maryville's sweet singer, by special request will sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Enthusiasm will be engendered which will cause the dirt in Maryville to fly higher than McMillan, the aviator. If he decides to take a tumble here he will come down on a city so clean and sanitary that the surgeons will not find it necessary to disinfect his wounds.

All together now! Everybody work! Do it for Maryville!

MRS. LANDON'S FATHER DEAD.

Mr. Landon Received Word Wednesday Morning of the Passing Away of His Father-in-Law.

Mr. P. O. Landon received a letter Wednesday morning announcing the death of his father-in-law, Prof. Doctor Hempel, at Lubek, Germany on the 16th of May last. Doctor Hempel was 70 years old and had been the leading professor in the university at Lubek for forty years. All those years he had taught Latin and Greek. He was preparing to retire from the work the coming fall. His illness came on suddenly and he died following an operation.

DR. SUZZALLO'S LECTURES.

One Given Tuesday Night at First M. E. Church and Two at Normal on Wednesday.

The lecture given by Dr. Henry Suzzallo of Columbia university of New York City on Tuesday evening at the First M. E. church was well attended by the Normal students and many others. He spoke of "The Modern Meaning of Culture," and gave a broader and deeper standard of true culture and the cultured man of today is different from the so called cultured man of yesterday.

On Wednesday morning Dr. Suzzallo brought out the three functions of the school. The first function of the modern school is to protect and conserve the powers of the youth. Second, to educate and third and not the last, to properly direct human distribution. The child should be directed to where his strength is most needed. There must be an end toward which the student is working in order to give the proper spirit toward his work. It is the duty of the school to see that the child is well nourished and to see that he is physically able to study. Our curriculum should be so arranged that the child be given a chance to choose from the different occupations, that which he is best adapted to and that which he likes the best.

At the regular faculty meeting of the instructors of the Normal on Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Suzzallo gave a very interesting address. After the meeting, tea was served by the Domestic Science department.

Dr. Suzzallo left Maryville this afternoon after giving his sixth lecture at the Normal.

Went to Meet Grandson.

Mrs. Catherine Miller went to Kansas City Wednesday morning to meet her 5-year-old grandson, John Robert Miller of Collinsville, Okla., who is coming for his third summer's visit with his grandmother and the family of his aunt, Mrs. F. P. Robinson. Mrs. Miller and her grandson will be guests of her son, Attorney Arthur Miller, and family until Thursday morning and will arrive here at noon.

GUILFORD.

Miss Ellen Parr of Hamilton and Miss Lillian McClain of Savannah are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Whiteford and their aunts, Mrs. Carl Wray and Mrs. Eunice Parr. Lewis Wilson met with an accident Tuesday evening two miles west of Guilford while speeding his new Indian motorcycle. His sister, Miss Rose Wilson, was riding with him, when at a bend in the road they confronted an automobile. Miss Wilson leaped from the wheel, and in trying to avoid running into the car before him Mr. Wilson touched the wrong lever, which increased the speed of his machine and it ran into a ditch at the side of the road. He sustained several bad bruises, among them a scalp wound and a badly bruised shoulder and elbow.

Guilford business men and other citizens in and around the town are not feeling the best toward the Maryville Commercial club for passing up the town in its recent trip in this section in the interest of the opening of the white way at Maryville. When our citizens heard that the club was making its visit to Ravenwood they telephoned around the country to let the neighbors know that their visitors were coming, and in less than an hour's time a big crowd was in town to give them the right welcome. The rain that was said to have scared the club away was fully ten miles from Guilford. Two days later the club made another trip and went down into Andrew county and rode all around in that country and up through Barnard and passed up Guilford the second time, when they said they were coming. The next time the Maryville Commercial club says it is coming to Guilford the club will be invited to stay away, for Guilford's business men don't want to see them.

Guilford housewives are turning the town into a canning factory and consuming the great products of strawberries and cherries that are now on. Many are receiving shipments of strawberries from Wathena, Kan., and some are putting up pineapples, which proves that Guilford is reaching to the islands of the sea to satisfy the desires of the inner man.

Observed Flag Day.

The M. I. Circle observed flag day at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, as it was the nearest meeting to the annual event, which is always observed June 14. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Ogden, just south of the city. The devotional service was led by Mrs. J. E. Melvin. Roll call was responded to with current events. Two splendid papers that thrilled all with the patriotism each expressed, were given by Mrs. W. O. Garrett and Mrs. A. C. Hopkins. Mrs. Garrett read of "The Passing of the G. A. R.," and Mrs. Hopkins gave the history of our flag. Mrs. Charles McNeal delighted everyone with a piano number, a melody of the national airs, all uniting in singing the closing air, "America." Mrs. J. F. Cook was critic for the afternoon. Two new members were added, Miss Orrell Helwig and Mrs. W. B. Price. Plans were made for the annual picnic in two weeks at the home of Mrs. O. L. Holmes, which will be the last meeting of the year. Study will be resumed again in September.

Intended for Surprise Party.

A number of young folks gathered at the home of Miss Nettie Miller on Friday evening, June 6, intending to give her a great surprise, it being her sixteenth birthday. But to their surprise she had known it almost a week. She

THREATS OF CIVIL WAR MADE

Irish Unionist Leader Tells Parliament
 He Will Take Full Responsibility for Resistance of the Ulster Men—Ber-ford Offers Services.

London, June 11.—The house of commons passed the second reading of the home rule for Ireland bill without division, an amendment by Balfour
 for the rejection of the measure having been defeated previously by a vote of 368 to 270. The announcement of the figures was received with cheering
 by Liberals and Nationalists.

The debate was marked by fiery declarations by the opposition speakers, who predicted the imposition of home rule would result in civil war in Ireland. Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader, said:

"For my part I will continue to support the Ulster men and will take full responsibility for their resistance. You may seize their arms or send troops, but you will not settle the Irish question. You know that you are crowding about peace when there is no
 peace and you will fall in your object."

Lord Charles Beresford declared:
 "If the government sends troops to Ireland I shall offer my services, poor
 as they may be, and help my fellow countrymen."

John E. Redmond, the Irish National leader, said Sir Edward Carson had taken upon himself a grave responsibility and did not represent Ulster's opinion. The Nationalists were willing to make any concessions.
 "But," added Mr. Redmond, "twenty-four counties will not allow themselves to be intimidated by four."

MAN HACKED TO DEATH

Mysterious Slayer Uses Axe on Victim
 at Harrisonville, Mo.

Harrisonville, Mo., June 11.—Arthur Kellar, a railway employee living here,
 was murdered with an axe in his home here and his seven-year-old daughter was seriously wounded. A blow aimed at Mrs. Kellar struck the side of the bed and awakened her. Mrs. Kellar said she leaped from the bed, and struggling with the murderer, drove him from the house and then gave the alarm to her neighbors.

Nathan Kellar, brother of the murdered man, testified at the inquest that Arthur Kellar had a life insurance policy for $1,000 and that his wife was the beneficiary. There was also an insurance policy of $1,000 on the life of Margaret, the wounded daughter. It was testified that the Kellars had quarreled frequently.

Authorities who examined the Kellar home and vicinity said they found no footprints either at the front or back of the house. Sheriff Prater said he believed there was no need of searching for the murderer through a posse.

 for baseball caused him to forge
 checks in New York to the extent of nearly $1,000. The victims

Where Shall
We Go?

For children and for all who need a splendid rest among ideal surroundings, Colorado, with its clear skies and health giving, exhilarating air, with its glorious mountain scenery that lifts
 your soul clean out of the workaday rut, can hardly be equaled in the world
 as a place to build up health, and enjoy the keenest holiday pleasure from outdoor life.

Now it's my business to lend a friendly hand in planning trips to Colorado. I can relieve you of a lot of trouble. I can give you maps and pictures of Colorado and a hand book describing the comfortable hotels and boarding houses and what they charge.

I can tell you how best to go and arrange for you all the details, and I would like to do it.

No charge, it is part of "Burlington Service." Call at the office or write for a copy of the free illustrated
 hand book.
